

11 Best Practices for Successful Team Science: A series of motivational videos

Nicole Exe

Training Specialist

MICHR Education & Mentoring Group

Outline

- Background
- Videos
- Discussion

Imagine three different people

Amanda: A mid-career investigator

Jasmine: A student/scholar

Tim: A research professional

Problem:

How do we get people engaged in:

1. learning about
2. utilizing resources for and
3. building skills in team science?

Top 10 Take Aways

1. Trust
 2. Vision
 3. Self-Awareness and Emotional Intelligence
 4. Leadership
 5. Mentoring
 6. Team Evolution and Dynamics
 7. Communication
 8. Recognition and Sharing Success
 9. Conflict and Disagreement
 10. Navigating and Leveraging Networks and Systems
- ❖ Diversity — added due to University of Michigan Diversity, Equity and Inclusion initiative

Motivational Videos

- Teasers
 - Not meant to replace education and training that already exists
- Paired with resources
- Interviews with a varied audience

Next Steps

- Finalize the resources to pair with each video
- Identify new interviewees from across disciplines

Acknowledgements

Laura Denton – Assistant Director, Office of Faculty Development

Jordan Hahn – Instructional Designer, MICHHR

Meg Fairchild – eLearning Developer, MICHHR

Vicki Ellingrod – Director, MICHHR Education & Mentoring Program

Contact nexe@med.umich.edu for more information

Discussion

